

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

UNIV. OF CALIFORNIA

The first catalogue of officers and students ever issued by Boston University was included, as Part First, in the Annual Report of the School of Theology for the year 1871-72. At that time the just adopted School of Theology was the only department maintained by the University, and its faculty and students constituted the total scholastic body. As it happened, that scholastic year closed the first third of a century since the projecting of the school in Boston, and the first quarter of a century since its opening in Concord. Accordingly a large part of the Annual Report was appropriately devoted to a historical sketch of the founding and fortunes of the institution. On pp. 48-51 all past officers of instruction were named, together with their years of service. Then, under the successive years, the names of all students entering from year to year were given, with indication of those who later attained the honor of graduation. Thus it came to pass that the first Annual Catalogue ever issued by the University was in the same cover with an elaborate historical register covering more than a quarter of a century.

Ten years later, in the eighth volume of the University Year Book, appeared a second retrospective summary of results, classified by years, by departments and by degrees; the names of all persons promoted by the University up to that time were there printed for the convenience of all interested.

In 1891, another decade having passed, a new and independent volume was issued which, under the title "Historical Register of Boston University," recorded all promotions to that date. From the numerical summaries at the close of that and of the succeeding issues of the Register it will be seen that the growth of the Convocation in membership has been remarkable. Here follow the figures:

	Men.	Women.	Total.
1891	1,914	493	2,407
1901	3,666	1,070	4,736
1911	5,355	1,794	7,149

The chief labor in preparing the present edition has been performed by Miss Ethel B. Kirkton, Class of 1910, and Miss Helen B. MacNeil, Class of 1912, both of the College of Liberal Arts. If among the thousands of figures and letters no one should turn out to be wrong, it would be little less than a miracle. In works of this kind the maximum of correctness can be attained only by the painstaking co-operation of many. The undersigned, therefore, urgently requests that any error herein discovered, however slight, be promptly reported to him, that he may make the proper correction and hold it for the next edition.

Vivat Universitas.

CHRONOLOGICAL NOTES.

In the beginning was the Word.
And the Word was made flesh,
And dwelt among us.

A.D. 1-664.

Ex Oriente Lux. Evangelization of Great Britain.

664-690.

Theodore (a Greek born in Tarsus), Archbishop of Canterbury. Founds in Canterbury a school for the promotion of the knowledge of Greek and other good learning.

672-735.

The Venerable Bede, a native Anglo-Saxon, trained in the school established by Theodore, devotes a long and peaceful life to the cultivation of letters, and "makes himself master of the whole range of existing knowledge." He writes Latin prose and verse fluently, and with his dying breath completes a translation of the Gospel of John into the language of his own people.

735-804.

Alcuin, born in Yorkshire, later "the intellectual prime minister of Charlemagne."

849-900.

Alfred the Great, chief teacher as well as king of his people. According to tradition, founder of the University of Oxford.

872-1326.

Oxford becomes a center of intellectual and spiritual life. Endowed Christian colleges there founded as follows: University (legendery date), 872; Balliol, 1263; Merton, 1264; Exeter, 1314; Oriel, 1326; soon followed by many more. 1214-92, Roger Bacon, "the Admirable Doctor," precursor of Francis Bacon and Sir Isaac Newton, pioneer teacher and discoverer in the field of the natural sciences. His last years spent in prison for exposing the ignorance and vice of the monks and clergy. Motto of the University (from Ps. xxvii. 1): Dominus illuminatio mea.

1327-1384.

John Wyclif, born 1324 or 1327. In 1340 a commoner in the just founded Queen's College. Later, Fellow of Merton; 1360-65, Warden of Balliol; 1365-70, Master of Canterbury Hall, which was afterwards merged in Christ Church College. In 1372 created Doctor in Sacred Theology. 1340-1400.

Geoffrey Chaucer, a disciple of Wyclif, and "Father of English Poetry."

1427.

Lincoln College founded as a defense against the spread of Wyclif's teachings and spirit.

1428.

Wyclif's body disinterred and burned by the authorities of the Church. His ashes are cast into a little tributary of the Avon, called Swift Brook, and thus, says Fuller, "this brook did convey his ashes into Avon, Avon into Severn, Severn into the narrow sea, and this into the wide ocean. And so the ashes of Wyclif are the emblem of his doctrine which is now dispersed all the world over." Compare Wordsworth's sonnet.

1477-1536.

William Tyndale continues at Oxford the work of Wyclif, publishes a new translation of the Bible, which becomes the basis of the Authorized Version; associates with the Continental Reformers, and dies at the stake.

1555.

Archbishop Cranmer, and Bishops Latimer and Ridley, bearing witness to the sacred truths they had maintained against the errors of the Church of Rome, burned at the stake, in Oxford, near Balliol College.

1584.

Emmanuel College founded in Cambridge—the first to be organized for the propagation of Puritan principles. In it were educated many of the founders of New England, among them Rev. John Harvard, in memory of whom the first Puritan college in the New World, founded 1636, is named.

1647-1660.

The Reformation, in its extreme Puritan form, at last triumphs in Oxford, 1647. John Milton in the employ of the Commonwealth, 1649-60. The Restoration, 1660.

Through Lord Dartmouth and Eleazer Wheelock, the latter an American, and a graduate of Yale, he aids in the founding of Dartmouth College, in New Hampshire. James Manning, educated in the College of New Jersey, class of 1762, becomes founder and first President of Brown University, oldest of Baptist colleges in America, opened in Providence, R. In 1771 is ordained deacon, and the following year a presbyter in the Church of England. Becomes curate of South Petherton, Somersetshire. A book on regeneration by President Witherspoon of the College of New Jersey, with other influences, prepares him to become an associate and eminent colleague of John Wesley.

Thomas Coke and Francis Asbury, on designation of John Wesley, by unanimous vote of the General Conference, at Baltimore, are constituted first Bishops of the first national church organization effected in the new American Republic, the Methodist Episcopal Church. Cokesbury College, established the same year, and located at Abingdon, Md., is planned, with improvements, after the model of Jesus College, Oxford; named in honor of Coke and Asbury, and administered under their supervision.
